We are going to mix things up a little. We want to introduce the new players to the main group. We are asking our more experienced players to play with a beginner or "C" player. Also other players to find a partner that they don't normally play with. Please sign up at the registration desk or send me an email.

As we enter the winter season please check our website if there is any chance the game will be cancelled due to weather. The website will be updated by 8 AM on game day.
