This event is being run as part of the Festival of Bridge “Bridge – It’s a BIG DEAL!”, and will therefore be slightly different from Café Bridge events we have done before:

- The venues have been chosen to be more “visible” (so avoiding dark cellars!) – we want people to see us playing and ask questions!
- In order to achieve this, we are also playing in four (maybe even five!) venues, to increase visibility;
- But this means that you won’t play in all venues, and to make the movement work, we have reduced this to TWO cafes only.
- For MOBILITY and other reasons, some people will STAY in the same venue all day (4 out of 16 pairs); some (4 more pairs) will have a short walk (est 2mins) between venues after lunch, all others will have a longer walk (8-10 mins) between The Shambles and Sidbury. Ample time will be allowed for this.

Please help us by giving an indication of your mobility levels – do you (or partner) need a STATIC venue, would you prefer a short walk, or are you OK to do the longer walk?

Choice of venue (for first half of the day, and food)

WBC Café Bridge events have always sought to provide a range of food tastes, and to offer some chance to express a preference for a particular venue, though numbers generally do have to fit neatly into table numbers for the purposes of movements. We cannot expect all cafés to have the same prices, so your ticket will include a £10 voucher for lunch – if you have chosen to eat at the most expensive venue (or chosen the most expensive dish), you may spend more than £10, and you will settle the extra with the café. At other venues, you may have to stretch to spend the full value, or add a side!

To help you with choice, here is a guide to what to expect at each venue. Some venues may ask for a pre-order before the day, or at the start of play, but there’s no need to choose your main at the point of entering. The menus below/on the website are for your guidance.

- The King’s Head is likely to be the most expensive for mains, though some lighter options are available; there is also perhaps a wider range available here. Go to our website to access a sample menu.
- The Commandery Café has recently changed hands, and is now run by Little AI, who also runs other City venues including the cafés at the Museum/Art Gallery balcony and at the Droitwich Lido. Most items are comfortably under £10, including paninis, brioche buns and other light bites, so you may need to add a cake or drink to spend your voucher. But AI has agreed to lay on £10 Specials for us on the day.
- The Dice Box is mainly burgers and pizzas in the £12-14 bracket, or lighter bites (paninis, nachos etc) in the £6-9 range. Menu can be viewed from our Café Bridge webpage.
- Elgar’s is the only venue we have used before – our regulars will be familiar with the menu – this too has recently changed hands, but the menu is unchanged, with salads, baked potatoes, paninis and even all-day breakfasts all in the £8-£12 price bracket. Again, you can view the menu on our website.

Please indicate if you have a 1st (2nd, 3rd, 4th) choice of venue – we cannot guarantee to give everyone their first choice, but will try to ensure NO-ONE gets their fourth!!
